

FUNDS ARE DIVIDED

Sinews of War Given Out for Maryland's Election.

FULL NEGRO VOTE EXPECTED

Disfranchisement Plank in Democratic Platform Will Aid Republicans—Judge Crothers Favorite in Final Setting—Senatorial Primary Holds Second Place in Interest.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Baltimore, Nov. 4.—With the funds of both parties distributed where it will do the most good to-morrow, the managers and candidates of both the Republican and Democratic parties are laying claim to victory in what to-night looks like a close contest.

Funds were not so plentiful to-day as they have been in the past, but both sides did the best they could to provide the sinews of war that will get the voters to the polls. With practically a disfranchisement plank in the Democratic platform, the Republicans expect the full vote of the negroes, but Chairman Vandiver claims the election of Judge Crothers, of Elkton, Democrat, by something like 12,000. Chairman Parran, for the Republicans, claims Gathier's election by over 8,000 to 13,000.

Judge Crothers seems to be the favorite in what betting has been done, and the prognosticators, while admitting it will be a close race between Crothers and Gathier, seem to think the Democrats will have the best of it when the votes are counted.

Gathier, however, is expected to run ahead of his ticket, for the reason that he is a Baltimore man, and it is expected he will poll more than the normal Republican vote in the city.

Interest in the Democratic senatorial primaries is almost, or quite as great, as in the gubernatorial contest. The three candidates before the party are Gov. Warfield, former Gov. John Walter Smith, and Representative Talbott. Warfield has the reputation of the machine, and the organization workers have indicated that they will support Smith and Talbott as the men to fill the places of Senators Whyte and Rayner.

Warfield Expects Success.
Gov. Warfield, however, to-night issued a statement, in which he declared he fully expects success, saying that assurances of support have been coming thick and fast from unexpected places. In a formal statement given to the press, he said:

"I have very little fear of what is generally spoken of as the 'organization' vote. While it is true that a large part of this vote will, under orders, be cast for my opponents, I know that a large number of men who have been most active and regular, occupying positions in the party organization, will vote for me and are among my most active supporters."

"You must remember that, in this senatorial primary, there will be about 50,000 Democrats taking part, whereas, before this time, no more than 12,000 votes have ever been brought out by the regular organization for their candidates."

"In this senatorial primary, in which I am so deeply interested, not only on my own account, but also on account of the great and important progress of good government and the progress of the methods, it must be remembered that it is the great masses of the Democratic party who are in the saddle and will control."

Smith and Talbott Confident.
Ex-Gov. Smith declared late to-night that Judge Crothers will be elected by 12,000 votes, and that Congressman Talbott said that he has no fear of the outcome, either gubernatorial or senatorial, and that he expects to be the primary choice for the latter, with Judge Crothers an easy victory. Judge Crothers is at his home in Elkton, and while improving from the typhoid fever with which he has been ill since September 19, he will not be permitted to go to the polls. A private telephone and telegraph line has been installed in his home, and he will thus keep close tabs on the way the vote is cast.

Police Close Richmond Saloons.
Special to The Washington Herald.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—Following unexpected police activity, Richmond bars are tightly closed to-night, and citizens will go to the polls through the morning. Police Sgt. Howard was informed early in the night that the bar attached to Murphy's Hotel was open and doing a big side-entrance business. Two officers were dispatched to the scene and the bar was closed. The effect of this action on the part of the police was immediately seen by discontinuance of the side-door business at other saloons.

Playwright Buys Maryland Estate.
Special to The Washington Herald.
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 4.—Paul Armstrong, the well-known actor and playwright, who now resides with his family at Actor Manor, Annapolis, has purchased "Belmont," the fine colonial estate situated near Old Bay Bridge, about three miles from Annapolis. The purchase price was $15,000. It formerly belonged to the Steele family. It is understood that Mr. Armstrong contemplates moving in raising thoroughbred horses on it.

Grant Mandamus Against Chimney.
Special to The Washington Herald.
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 4.—In the circuit court here to-day, upon petition of Dr. Charles B. Henkel, a mandamus was issued against Prof. Robert L. Wertz, directing that he remove obstructions from a chimney, which prevents Henkel from heating his drug store, situated directly beneath a building occupied by Prof. Wertz as a gymnasium, who maintains in connection with his preparatory school for the Naval Academy.

Southern Trainmen May Strike.
Special to The Washington Herald.
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 4.—Engineers and conductors of the Southern Railroad have threatened a strike if they are not paid an increase in wages. Meetings have been held, and it is probable that a compromise may be reached and a strike averted. There has been a general complaint on account of long hours and extra pay, and a demand for increased pay.

Maurice H. Jamison Dead.
Cumberland, Md., Nov. 4.—Maurice H. Jamison, one of the best known and most highly esteemed farmers in Allegany County, died yesterday at the Western Maryland Hospital, Cumberland. He was fifty years of age.

UP TO BOSTON TO TELL.

Explanation Wanted for the Whyness of Mr. Hitchcock's Trip.

First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock, whose famous trip through the South, resulting in that official's finding great enthusiasm in favor of President Roosevelt, returned to Washington yesterday, after three weeks' absence.

Great secrecy was maintained in the office of the First Assistant as to where he has been and what he has been doing. Mysterious whisperings and shufflings, comings and goings from the outer into the inner sanctum, indicated the First Assistant was compiling the names of those who would be written as supporters of the second elective term idea.

But where has the First Assistant been? No less an authority than the Fort Worth Record some days ago in all seriousness announced that the first assistant was in the company of the Hon. Cecil Lyon, who holds the Texas suffrage in his hip pocket, at Danville, which is the name of Cecil's place in the Panhandle country of Texas. But was he in Danville?

Not by a jugful, according to those about the Post-office Department. The best that may be gathered is that the First Assistant killed a bear in Wyoming, or that he hooked a bass in Texas. He may have been in Union, Tenn., or, as some will have it, he went from Danville to Thiner, Texas.

But whether he went matters little as compared with why. That's the question agitating the Post-office Department, and he is as silent as a cooked oyster. Did he see a light that will influence the vote he is going to Boston to cast to-day, or did he not?

Since newspaper reporters cannot get close to his office, Boston will have to tell the news to the waiting world.

PRESERVING TIMBER SUPPLY

Mr. Pinchot Tells of Great Work Being Done.

Says the Present Supply of Timber Will Last Only Twenty Years More.

Mr. Gifford Pinchot, chief of the United States Forest Service, arrived in Washington yesterday morning after six months' absence on a field trip, which took him over more than 10,000 miles of the West. The forester was not expected in the city until to-day, but he managed to beat his schedule by a day. When he last night, he said:

"I am much pleased with the condition in which I have found all the national forests. The field administration has been improved wonderfully in efficiency, and considering the limited number of men available, I do not see how it could be bettered at present."

"The government is now carrying on one of the greatest feats of improvement attempted in national forests. Thousands of miles of telephone lines, roads and trails, and bridges are being built to make the forest regions accessible."

"The question of future timber supply is a serious one. It must be remembered that the government has nothing more than about one-fifth of the country's timberland. The remainder is in the hands of private owners, who, for the most part, are not making the best use of the forest resources. Destruction of the country's forests will affect every man, woman, and child in this country, and the devastation of America's forests will bring about a condition which will greatly affect the country's prosperity. The timber supply at the present rate of cutting, will probably last for twenty years, which is an exceedingly short time in the life of a nation. The remedy lies in applying methods of forestry, which is nothing more than conservative lumbering, to the forests now in control of the government, and in encouraging private owners to do the same."

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

Investigation Being Made Into Death of Walter F. Baker.

New York, Nov. 4.—Frank N. Say and H. R. Morse, lawyers, and Dr. Sherwin Gibbons, the Boston men who came to New York Saturday on behalf of Edward F. Baker, of Boston, to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. Baker's brother, Walter F. Baker, returned home on the 5 o'clock train to-night.

Walter F. Baker died at the home of his friend, Frank J. Ford, at Bogota, N. J., on October 27, after spending the evening eight-seeing in New York. Edward F. Baker believes his brother was poisoned.

Mr. Say said, just before taking the train, "We have reason to believe that Mr. Baker was murdered. He left a large sum of money, between $300,000 and $400,000. His brother understands that Mr. Baker left a will. This will we have been searching for, but as yet have been unsuccessful. It is understood that the will leaves the money to some of the parties outside the family. This fact would tend to create suspicions of foul play."

Mr. Walter Baker's private correspondence, which he kept in his room at his brother's Boston home, disappeared, the brother says, during the past two months. Edward Baker is quoted as saying that he saw among the letters, one from a New York woman demanding $500 in a peremptory manner.
